Dear Gianpiero,

Greetings to you! Please accept my apology for the long silence without communicating. Covid 19 effect had its effect on us making it difficult to reconnect again.

I am writing to appreciate your enormous contribution to the education of children in South Sudan especially those under our guidance as Comboni sisters. We remain grateful towards your generous contribution which the efforts are now yielding fruits.

The situations in this young nation are challenging in terms of security and economics. Since last year 2022, many people are suffering from hunger, flood and insecurity. Therefore some of the children we support come from poor families that paying their tuition is not enough and we have to help them with some requirements. As a result of this support, they have remained in school and continue to do well. On their behalf and on my own behalf we would sincerely like to thank you for your continual support to the neediest. May God reward you!

Sr. Lily Grace

Through your support two students who benefitted have made us proud.

Valentino Mbgara Duku completed his training as a medical doctor. He is now working in Wau Teaching Hospital serving his own people. He is so grateful to economia alternativa as expressed in his letter of gratitude.

Mary Ojullu Joshua whom you supported in high school is now under government scholarship in Ethiopia because of good performance. She is studying medicine in Ethiopia. Mary is first from right in the picture, tall and dark.
